

"Write plays to lose yourself in your fictive world. To bring back the past and raise the dead. To show how fleeting love and happiness are, to show how interconnected we are and to show democracy is in danger."

-Jose Rivera

"If realism is as artificial as any genre, strive to create your own realism. What are its physical laws? What does time do? How do your characters behave in this altered universe."

-Jose Rivera

"I am a stranger in my own body. A stranger to my own past. My memories don't make sense. Sometimes when you're with somebody, you don't feel strange anymore. Somehow by luck or chemistry or divine intervention, you collide with another life...you feel like you've reached home."

-Celestina

"The mystery of what a couple is, exactly, is almost the only true mystery left to us, and when we have come to the end of it there will be no more need for literature."

-Mavis Gallant
